

Dreaming of a world without borders

Though we are living in a global economy, your goods are still subject to customs.

Customs regulations are a complex business that requires specialized knowledge, skills and procedures.

We take care of the red tape

The Sany group offers you peace of mind by cutting through the red tape and taking this troublesome chore from your hands.

We hold a full AEOC certificate (Authorised Economic Operator), issued by the EU and an AEOS certificate. This offers a range of benefits, which greatly enhance the flow and speed of customs formalities, e.g.:

- Fewer physical and document-based controls
- Prior notification in case of selection for customs control
- Priority treatment if selected for control
- Possibility to request a specific place for customs controls
- Mutual Recognition with third countries

This results in substantial gains in time and cost, which is of course to your benefit.

Digital communication with customs authorities

Automation of communications with the customs authorities is vital in today's logistic chain.

We offer a complete range of services via electronic PLDA (paperless) declarations:

- Drafting of import and export documents
- Fiscal representation for import and export
- Issuing of transit documents (NCTS)
- Issuing of certificates EUR 1, ATR, FORM A...
- VAT-warehouse
- BTI procedures
- EMCS Excises

Continuous update of our know-how

Sany constantly monitors changes in customs regulations. Our customs team update their know-how on a regular basis through training.

It goes without saying that we are your preferred partner for advice on all aspects of customs regulations and compliance.

Managed services in bonded warehousing (Belgium and The Netherlands)

We put our own bonded warehouses at your disposition. Next to this, we can take over the management of your bonded warehouses. This will save you time, which you can spend on your core business.
