

Automate your B2B order process with AI

Hyperfox eliminates manual order entry in wholesales, distribution and manufacturing while your team stays in full control.

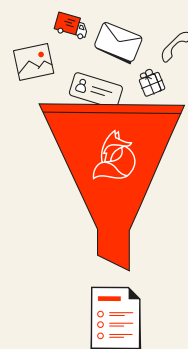

Hyperfox reads your order emails, extracts customer and product data, validates against your customer contracts, and creates orders directly in your ERP system.

Connect all your order channels

Orders come in through email, phone, WhatsApp, API, EDI, scans, ... Hyperfox collects every order into one central overview.

Secure connection: direct integration with Microsoft Office 365 Outlook, API, EDI, ...

Zero disruption: your existing workflow remains completely unchanged.

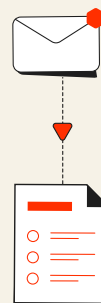

Extract order data with AI

Hyperfox automatically extracts your customer and product data from all kinds of formats (written text, pdf, xls, doc, audio, images, ...) and matches it with the company data in your ERP-system.

Multi-format processing: handles emails, PDFs, Excel files, images, and handwritten notes.

Context awareness: understands industry terminology and customer-specific language.

Start automating your B2B order process today!

Get in touch via hyperfox.com/book-a-demo

Validate against B2B contracts

Every order is automatically validated against your business rules before processing. Check custom price rules, product catalogs & delivery conditions for every individual customer.

Customer-specific pricing: validates against individual price lists and discount structures.

Exception handling: flags unusual orders for manual review whilst processing standard ones.

Connected to your ERP system

Seamless integration with your existing ERP system means validated orders flow directly into your business processes.

Pre-built integrations: works with Microsoft 365 Business Central, Navision, Odoo, SAP, Exact Online, and more.

Real-time sync: orders appear in your ERP within seconds after validation.

Data consistency: maintains customer records, product codes, and pricing accuracy.

Hyperfox automates the order process for

Tom Devos

Founder & CEO

+32 487 737 002

tom.devos@hyperfox.com

linkedin.com/in/tomdevosbe

Lecturer at KU Leuven & UHasselt

20 years industry expertise

digitalising manufacturing, distribution and wholesales enterprises

Hyperfox