ZERO WASTE
PRODUCTION

Manufacture

Virgin Oil Press Kft. has been producing cold-pressed oils for more than 10 years in Hungary, in own pressing factory. The method of cold-pressing is environmentally friendly and means a use of pure mechanical force with the self-developed special machinery. The process is so effective, that there is no need to use any chemicals, additives, heat treatment to obtain the oil content of the seeds. This way Grapoila oils preserve all the beneficial nutrients of the high quality raw materials.

Zero Waste production

The production process is part of a special, environmentally conscious Zero Waste concept, where all the created by-products (pellets, oil muds) are made use of and further processed: they are raw materials of seed flours, animal feed, gourmet butters and natural cosmetics. Our goal is to create delicious, natural and healthy products, while having a minimal environmental impact with no waste.

Natural Cosmetics

All the products in the Grapoila Cosmetics range are made of 100% natural ingredients, and the proportion of the main ingredient – the best quality cold-pressed cosmetic oils – is extremely high. Packaging is also environmentally friendly.

Oil muds:

The oil mud – one of the byproducts – is worth to save from vasting: it has high cold-pressed oil content and also contains the fine microparts of the seeds. They are perfect facial masks, that also have a purifying and exfoliating effect. We offer oil muds made from milk thistle seeds, linseeds, sea buckthorn seeds, grape seeds, pumpkin seeds and black cumin seeds.

As a protection, soaps are wrapped in paper covered with natural carnauba wax. They are recommended to use daily, kept on a soap holder to avoid soaking.

Cold-pressed Oils

From the very begin we have aimed to produce the best quality cold-pressed oils. We kept developing the technology and seeking high quality raw materials, and all this efforts have finally made our dream came true. Now we produce 18 types of cold-pressed oils, that are rich in polyunsaturated fatty acids, vitamin E and A and other valueable ingredients. Either consumed internally or used topically they have big health benefits, nourish the skin and support their barrier functions.

Many of the Grapoila oils are highly sought-after cosmetic oils that we use as active ingredients, in extremely high proportion in the Grapoila natural cosmetics.

Paprika seed oil:

Paprika seed oil is a perfect skin care oil: it has a very high vitamin E, carotenoid and phytosterol content, and has antioxidant, anti-aging and protecting effects. Due to its capsaicin content it increases the blood flow. We use paprika seed oil in our unique paprika oil lip balm, where it brightens the lips' colour and gives them a – by women and man well appreciated – visual volume. In this balm we even increase its nourishing and antibacterial mechanism with extra, natural skin care ingredients. We both use the regular and the slightly hot version of paprika seed oil.

Grape seed oil:

Thanks to its valuable ingredients cold-pressed grape seed oil helps treating various skin problems in many different ways. It easily absorbes into the skin, thus facilitates the healing of inflammatory skin problems, as well. We produce facial mud, soap and lip balm using grape seed oil as main ingredient.

Rosehip seed oil:

The rosehip seeds are hard to press and require a special pressing technology. The valuable oil is extremely high in nourishing ingredients. It helps rebuilding the sun-damaged skin, supports collagen production, has an anti-aging and firming effect and naturally improves its elasticity. For the Grapoila rosehip seed cosmetics we use the oil, the flesh and the fruit extract, as well, and combine them with other natural herbal ingredients to create the best and most intense skin care effects. We produce bath salt, soap and lip balm using rosehip seed oil as main ingredient.

Walnut oil:

Cold-pressed walnut oil is one of the most sought-after cosmetic oil in the world. Thanks to its high Vitamin E content and its nourishing ingredients, it helps the dry, sensitive, atopic skin to get soft, hydrated and healthy again. It also has an anti-inflammatory effect. We produce bath salt, soap and lip balm using walnut oil as main ingredient.
